MAKES IT THREE STRAIGHT.

LENS TAKES HIS THIRD CONSECUTIVE RACE FROM SPEEDY OPPONENTS.

Severus Also Wins for Lucky Owner Dunne—Dashaway Badly Beaten—More Arrivals from Various Points.

New Orleans, La., December 4.—Today's card was probably the poorest of the meeting. Big fields composed of low-class horses went to the post in the first three, and the bettors having slight knowledge of their form caused little interest to be manifested in their running. The feature race, if such it could be called, was the fourth, in which a shifty band of sprinters met, including Lens and Al Muller. The latter, on account of his impressive victories on the only two occasions he had started, was made favorite over Lens. Lens gained the verdict over him by a short margin. Dashaway's unexpected defeat in the fifth, for which he was held a strong favorite, was the chief incident of the afternoon. At no stage of the race did he seem able to get into contention, and was beaten off throughout, finishing last by many lengths. Hyperion II., after racing Donna into defeat in the first three-quarters,' came away to an easy victory over Besterling. The latter showed a good performance and captured second place from Harting, which ran today in the name of J. W. Gorman, the Cincinnati broker.

In addition to winning with Lens, Pat Dunne annexed a purse with Severus when he led the others home in the third race.

Jockey Delaby was largely responsible for Dr. McCluer's defeat in the closing race by Docile. Delaby made too much use of Dr. McCluer in the early stages and was unprepared for the winner's rush in the stretch.

Jockey McDaniel rode his first winner of the meeting when he piloted Burlew & O'Neill's Georgia Girl home in the opening dash. Asteroid, at a long price, upset calculations in the second by winning in a canter from Tom McAfee. The strongly backed Constantia was best, but ran out on the stretch turn, which cost her the race.

Sallie Barry, which started in the opening race, ran away a mile while going to the post and the others were dispatched without her. She was ridden by jockey Dyer, a recent comer from the half-mile track. He is said to be a promising youngster and is at present under contract to C. E. Mahone.

The judges before the racing began had jockey Finn before them on complaint that he had not ridden Anna Day to orders in Tuesday's last race. In addition to a sharp lecture they suspended him for one week for his offense.

Starter Dade lifted the ban against jockey Nicol and he will be allowed to accept mounts tomorrow.

Harry Morrissey, assistant starter to Mars Cassidy, arrived today and stated that Mrs. Cassidy had improved so much in the past few days that it is now a certainty that Cassidy will be on hand to dispatch the fields at the opening of the Fair Grounds meeting next Monday.

Matt J. Winn stated today that James Butler, owner of the Empire City track, would be here for the holidays. Extensive improvements are in contemplation for the Yonkers track, and many valuable stakes will be offered horsemen to run for.

Jockey W. McIntyre was among today's arrivals from Benning.

Roger Minton, with ten horses owned by Sam Lazarus, and G. Luckey, with a string of six, came in today. Jockey James Hogg came with the Minton consignment.

SAM LAZARUS ON TEXAS BREEDING.

Lone Star Turfman's Views Touching Thoroughbred Industry in His State.

Turfman Sam Lazarus, of Texas and St. Louis, was in New York a few days ago and in a talk with A. B. Smith, of Morning Telegraph, gave some interesting details of his experience in breeding thoroughbreds and also some statements touching racing in Texas—racing that is bound to grow in importance as the years pass and the managers learn how to induce owners of good horses to patronize their circuit of tracks. Asked about his breeding ventures, Mr. Lazarus said:

"I've studied breeding a lot," said Mr. Lazarus, "but I'm just beginning to think I don't know anything about it at all. A man figures on the different crosses and nicks, pores over breeding lines and does his best to get the right thing, but, after all, I tell you it's a good deal of a guess. Not that I do not believe in the science, and, of course, a man has simply to keep on at the game; but you try it awhile and find for yourself what a mystery the whole thing is. Some day, maybe, I will get a crackajack, and then I guess it will just be a case of the gods playing another practical joke.

"There's Mr. Keene. He's had a great run of success, but he has had many a disappointment, too, and thorough student of breeding as he is, he couldn't tell you why, but he's got the right idea, that is, just to keep on going.

"Of course, my place is not so important in the breeding world, but I take more interest in it than in anything, and I've got some good stock down there, including the dam of Crescendo, Janet N., Callatine, full sister to Inspector B.; Manetta, Found and Etta Gilroy. I believe Macy is a good sire, and now I'm going to take Right Royal down there, and surely he ought to be a good one, but it's all a big gamble.

"But I'm not discouraged, only I realize the great uncertainty of the whole proposition and am more determined than ever to breed a real good one some time.

"The luck of the game is shown in the efforts of Barney Schreiber of Woodlands Stud in Missouri. He buys Foul Shot with all that good Musket and Artillery blood, and Foul Shot lacks a dollar and a quarter of being worth thirty cents. Then he takes Sain, who could scarcely win a selling race on the western race tracks, and everything he gets wins, and some of them mighty good ones, too. There is Ormonde with Orsini and Ossary to show.

"Some people tell me that I breed to old mares too much instead of untried and young ones, but the old ones produce the best sometimes, and it looks like the dam of Crescendo ought to throw a good one, doesn't it? Some horsemen think that Crescendo was the best horse ever raised in the west. Barney Schreiber says he was the best two-year-old he ever saw.

"I'm just having Right Royal insured here today and if I didn't do it something would happen to him sure. I lost Major Daingerfield, you know, through his being kicked in a paddock down at the farm. Right Royal will have the best chance I can give him at Abilene, and I believe he will make good."

Mr. Lazarus is enthusiastic over the Texas racing circuit now under the supervision of the Texas Thoroughbred Association. "All things considered," he said, "we have a mighty fine little circuit, with fifteen days at Dallas, eight at Fort Worth, eight at Houston and fifteen at San Antonio. Then there is Beaumont and Austin, and they ought to be in the circuit, too. The state could support ten tracks with short meetings very well. Racing begins the last of September and it is in the very best hands. There are no dividends declared. Everything goes into running expenses and improvements.

"Texas is the only state in the union which has a law against any form of gambling or betting except on horse races on a regular and recognized race track. They simply will not have gambling anywhere else. We have a pretty fair class of horses, though many of them are Texas-bred. Great crowds turn out to see the sport, and it is run in connection with the annual fairs at Dallas and the other cities.

"Some of the breeders in Texas are J. W. Fuller at Wills Point, near Dallas; Fred Wood at Abilene; S. B. Burnett at Fort Worth; R. J. Kleburg at Kingsville, and Henry Batcheler at Ennis. Batcheler brought Wildmore east and campaigned Jack Hardy and L'Argentine."

Mr. Lazarus said modestly that he only had a nice little ranch at Abilene of 32,000 acres, which was small for an old-time Texan. Then he mentioned the famous King ranch of 1,400,000 acres as an example of a good sized place.

The Texas racing circuit has attracted considerable attention from horsemen outside of that state, and there is every reason to believe that there will be continued improvement owning to the great success it has had since the racing law was passed. But the Texans should make their stake events for horses other than those Texas-bred, as is the case at present. It is all right to encourage breeding in their own state, but the meetings can not attract good horses from the outside under the present conditions.

They have the best law in the world for the protection of racing, and there is every indication that they will keep it, as the entire Texas public is devoted to the sport and wants to see it extended and made of general importance throughout the country. Then the Texans should loosen up and go in strong for the breeding of thoroughbreds and getting higher class horses. Thoroughbreds are not raised like cattle, and they deserve more attention and cost more money to perfect if the idea is to make the Lone Star State a genuine thoroughbred racing and breeding ground.

Mr. Lazarus came east to Washington to see Right Royal run in the Washington Cup and the Maximum, and he thinks a great deal of the black horse by Rapallo—Mrs. Delaney. In fact he hates to see his horses beaten, as he told me at Washington. After the Cup he did not care to start Right Royal in the Maximum unless the track became soft and suitable to the horse's bad legs, but his trainer induced him to start him, believing that he would run an improved race over the Cup showing. Mr. Lazarus bought Right Royal during the Buffalo meeting and has won nine races with him.

PROMISING YEARLINGS DEAD.

New York, December 4.—R. A. Smith left yesterday for New Orleans, where his horses are already quartered, and he will assume the management of the stable on his arrival. Mr. Smith, instead of attending the races at Washington, spent two weeks hunting in New Brunswick. Just before leaving New York he received a telegram announcing the loss of two of the best yearlings in his stable. One was the Cesarion—Insinuate filly, and the other a brown colt by Gold Heels—Sanctissima, both of which he purchased at the yearling sales last summer. He still has three yearlings at New Orleans which will be raced after the first of the year, but none of them is as promising as the two that died. In speaking of his loss just before his departure Mr. Smith said:

"I'm starting the winter season some loser. Both of these youngsters showed me a quarter in twenty-three seconds, over the training track at Belmont Park, and I had reason to expect great things of them next season. The same morning Green Seal, which has plenty of speed, stepped the same quarter in 23⅗, and Notasulga went along in about the same time.

"There was nothing to choose between the two, so far as the trial was concerned, but the filly was the better looking youngster, and after the trial I refused an offer of $3,000 for her. I bought her at the fall sale out of a consignment sent by J. L. Luke of Lexington for $450. The colt cost me $250."

KENTUCKY YEARLINGS FOR TEXAS.

Lexington, Ky., December 4.—Phil King, the Texas turfman, who came here a week ago expecting to buy a carload of yearlings, purchased the following six, which were shipped to Dallas tonight:

From J. C. Milam & Co.—Brown colt, by Contestor—Astoria; chestnut filly, by Contestor—Housegirl.

From O. H. Chenault and J. H. Brown—Chestnut colt, by Russell—Dolly Withers.

From Clem Beachy, Jr.—Chestnut filly, by Nasturtium—Allie Belle.

From C. W. Moore—Chestnut colt, by Ingoldsby—Jessie Lee B.; brown filly, by Ingoldsby—Lizzie T.

The effort to save Ingoldsby proved futile. He was chloroformed last night.

MUDDY GOING AT OAKLAND.

FIRST RAIN OF THE SEASON SLOWS UP THE RECORD-BREAKING TRACK.

Peter Sterling Wins Praise for a Good Performance—Blondy Defeats San Nicholas—Some Ruling Off.

Oakland, Cal., December 4.—After a seven months' spell of dry weather and perpetual sunshine, the twenty-second day of the present meeting opened inauspiciously for the chief of outdoor sports, racing. A light rain fell during the forenoon, converted the local track into a state of plastery mud and made the task of picking the winners in the majority of the six races extremely puzzling. Notwithstanding this handicap, racegoers fared unusually well in their ring operations with the successes of the favorite Peter Sterling in the main feature, of Heather Scott in the opening race, of Agnolo, the second choice and best backed horse in the next race and, finally over the victory of Blondy, also another big money carrier and, but for a fraction of odds, the actual favorite, in the fifth. The other two winners, Serenity and Captain Burnett, third choices in the betting, were briskly backed across the board and the layers, after paying out place and show wagers on this pair, broke no more than even, despite the downfall of the two short-priced starters, Meada and Fisher Boy.

The chief race, the Berkeley Handicap, at a mile and an eighth, attracted a superior class field of six starters, including Peter Sterling, San Alviso, Red Leaf, Dollie Dollars, Janeta and Ovelando. The Trotter four-year-old revealed high class form in his decisive defeat of the quintette opposed to him. He was a heavily backed favorite and carried 117 pounds to an easy victory in the fast time for the slow state of the going of 1:54⅘. After the race experts and horsemen were generally inclined to the belief that Peter Sterling is the best horse in training at present in the United States.

The discouraging weather conditions kept the attendance today down to 5,000. Guy Burns was the only jockey of note to score a sucess during the afternoon. Both Miller and Dugan were eclipsed by the lesser known contingent of jockeys riding here.

The stewards took action in the John Strobel-Mentry-I'm Joe "doping" and bribery case by ruling the former off the turf. The incident is now considered closed.

O. F. Hume, of the Marchmont Stable, was also found guilty of using or administering stimulants to the horse Saint Modan before the running of the first race on Tuesday and suspended indefinitely. The stewards also recommended that his license as trainer be revoked.

Emma G., which was backed all over the country, according to rumor, to win the first race, was virtually left at the post.

RACE TRACK AT HAMMOND; MAYBE.

It is rumored that quiet negotiations are being conducted by a Chicago syndicate for the purchase or lease of a large tract of land near Hammond, Indiana, to be used as a race track site if the political outlook next year will warrant the building of a mile track and the necessary buildings. Governor J. Frank Hanly, who, during his term of office has been violently opposed to racing, retires as chief executive January 1, 1909, and the promoters of the Hammond project believe that his successor will not be opposed to the holding of race meetings in that state. If the result of the election next fall is favorable, as the promoters now anticipate, steps will be immediately taken towards the construction of the necessary plant. In any event no attempt will be made to hold a meeting until after there has been a change in the state administration.

NOTASULGA DOING WELL.

Notasulga is said to be the best of the big colony of horses Thomas McCreery has in his public stable at Belmont Park. Her owners, Henry Brulatour and Alfred Hamel, have entered The Commoner—Touch Not filly in many of the three-year-old races for next year, and other engagements will be made during the winter. They believe Notasulga will be the champion long-distance filly next year. She has grown and filled out considerably since she was laid up during the Saratoga meeting, when she picked up a rusty nail. No serious attempt was made after this accident to get her back to racing form, and the preparation of the filly next spring will be slow and careful, permitting her to come to the races in her own good time. Notasulga was hurried too much at New Orleans last winter, and the contrary course will be pursued next year.

"BIG BILL" A BENEDICT.

Jockey W. Knapp was married last Sunday to Miss Bertie Price of Youngstown, Ohio, who has been visiting friends in San Francisco for some time. Miss Price and Knapp suddenly decided Sunday morning to go to San Jose and be married, which they did without taking any of their friends into their confidence, and the news was a complete surprise to the friends of both bride and groom. Knapp and his bride will go to Germany in the spring, where he will ride next season.

GUTTENBERG'S GREAT MATCH RACE.

Tammany's Defeat of Lamplighter and Its Results—Breeding Bureau Benefits.

New York, December 2.—Astonishment was expressed here at the news that Lamplighter had been sold at auction for $100. At least twice in his career this sensational turf performer changed hands at five figures—once when the late Captain Brown and his partner, J. W. Rogers, let him go to Pierre Lorillard, the owner of Rancocas, for $30,000; and again when Gottfried Walbaum paid $20,000 for him at auction in 1893, and within a month had raced him in the sensational match at the Guttenberg track with Marcus Daly's Tammany. I have in my scrap book, treasured for its reminiscences of other days, including scenes at Washington Park in the heydey of its prosperity, a photograph taken of the judges' stand at Guttenberg on the day of that memorable contest. The match had attracted so much attention all over the United States that the largest cosmopolitan assemblage ever gathered within the inclosure over-ran the judges' stand. There was barely room for the officials selected for the race. The late Colonel S. D. Bruce and the late John E. Brewster were chosen by the management, at my suggestion, to act as judges and stewards, in conjunction with the writer, who was the regular official.

The photograph shows clearly enough the late General W. H. Jackson, the late Marcus Daly, the late Colonel Bruce and the late Mr. Brewster, as well as many who are still alive and are able to appreciate good sport—men like De Courcey Forbes, who at that time held very close relations with Pierre Lorillard, and who came over to see his much-admired Lamplighter run at a course he had never been over in public; "Billy" Roller, whose mysterious disappearance two years ago from the eastern tracks has never been explained; James B. Dyer, who trained Elkwood for Walter Gratz and later trained in Austria with great success, and others not so well known to the turf world. Marcus Daly is depicted engaged in a friendly chat with Tammany's breeder, General Jackson. Gottfried Walbaum is one of the crowd on the steps of the judges' stand. He is but one of the fifty persons seen massed in a solid crush watching the horses going to the post.

Of course, all horsemen recall that Tammany won the match and with it a great deal of money for his owner, and as a consequence Fred Walbaum lost at least $20,000 in bets, so that the well-meant boom for the Guttenberg track cost one of the "big four" much more personally than the receipts of the day, large as they were. The race was run on Thursday, September 28, 1893, for $2,500 a side, with $5,000 added, and the mile and a quarter was run in 2:06½, which, while not so fast as has been done by the best horses, was nevertheless a fine performance. Each horse carried 122 pounds, Garrison on Tammany and Taral on Lamplighter. The latter made his own running, and as the late Andrew Thompson, the negro horseman well remembered for his well-educated bearing, said to me after the race: "It would have been a faster race and Lamplighter would not have been beaten so easily if there had been two or three other horses in to maintain the pace good and strong."

It was this match and the financial effect that this and the conflict with the board of control tracks had on the latter, that showed the turf government of that period the necessity for the regulation of dates. Guttenberg was well able to race against the Brooklyn Jockey Cub that month and make money. But the Gravesend track did not earn anything like as large returns as before the conflict, and when a year later there was no clash everything seemed bright until the passing of the constitutional amendment prohibiting betting.

This seemed a body blow to turf interests, but thanks to the unremitting efforts of the men who composed the Jockey Club, the popular institution has been maintained as the greatest of all sports, bringing vast profits to the associations, enriching all the breeders of the land, aiding the agricultural interests and affording enployment to hundreds of persons. Dates were mutually agreed on by all the tracks then in existence that desired to race, and the effect has been satisfactory all around. This is why the much-talked of Empire City decision by the Court of Appeals has left the turf world in a state of uncertainty, for no one except James Butler really knows what dates will be desired by him, and if he wants August, as this year, there is certain to be great dissatisfaction on the part of the Saratoga people, as well as others whose efforts in the past have been for the good of the turf.

When I read that Lamplighter had been sold for $100, the first thought that came to my mind was that he would have been a desirable acquisition to the Breeding Bureau of New York, because most of his get seem to like long-distance races and were, moreover, sound, as a rule. In the military race at Benning on Friday the winner, Gregg, was said to have been a thoroughbred and by Lamplighter. This is not claimed as a fact, but one thing is certain, the military race will be taken as a capital thing to imitate at other points where racing thrives, and in order to win it thoroughbreds not fast enough to run at light weights but up to carrying heavy weights over a long distance of ground will be in great demand. Hence, a horse which might not be worth $100 for ordinary racing might be worth $1,000 if he could be depended upon to run prominently in the military race. This seems the logical conclusion, and causes thinking men to approve the Washington Jockey Club's efforts in this direction. Naturally, the consideration of this leads one to contemplate with approbation the recent action of the four leading turf associations of the New York circuit in offering $14,400 in prizes for the produce of stallions placed by the Breeding Bureau last year, and of course the natural question is what is to become of the produce of the forty-seven stallions so placed. After the colts and fillies have become old enough to be exhibited or sold for general purposes, or for racing if they are fast enough, where will a market be found for them? Will the Jockey Club initiate a series of turf contests limited to the produce of such stallions on somewhat the same lines as done in Canada frequently when races are limited to Canadian-breds, and if so what will be the nature of such contests? Why not now open some Futurities to be raced for by the produce of these stallions at races more than a mile and at an age which will aid the vexed question of "Why is racing?" Why not come out now with the details of such races so that a further stimulus may be given to the Breeding Bureau and its well-devised aims? J. J. Burke.

ENGLISH SIRES OF TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

St. Frusquin in the Lead for This Year with Gallinule a Good Second.

Discussing the comparative success of English sires through their two-year-olds of 1907, "Special Commissioner" of London Sporting Life, writing at the end of the first week of November, said:

"Three months have elapsed since the last occasion on which I drew attention in this column to the successful sires of two-year-olds. A convenient opportunity now presents itself for reviewing the situation in the light of subsequent happenings. There are one or two valuable nurseries in the programs of forthcoming meetings—the Knowsley at Liverpool, for example, which has been advanced from $2,500 to $5,000 by way of suitably commemorating the new straight five-furlong course; but we now have all the most important two-year-old races behind us, and nothing that may occur between now and the end of the Manchester meeting is likely to have much effect on the figures which I am about to set forth. In the appended table I have included all the sires whose two-year-olds had at the close of the Houghton meeting won stakes amounting to $5,000 or over:

Sire.	Winners.	Races.	Value.
St. Frusquin	5	15	$54,377.50
Gallinule	6	10	48,632.50

Cherry Tree	2	3	5,915.00
Melton	4	4	5,235.00
King's Messenger	3	5	5,035.00

In the table I published at the beginning of August twenty-five stallions had qualified for admission. The new recruits are William the Third, Forfarshire, Ladas, Wolf's Crag, Raeburn, Isinglass, Cherry Tree, Melton and King's Messenger. So far as the others are concerned there have been some remarkable changes. St. Frusquin, for instance, has gone from the eighteenth place to the top. Needless to say, he owes his advancement almost entirely to the brilliant achievements of Lesbia. Commencing with the Prince of Wales' Plate at York, she scored five times, her total being $40,332.50. None other of St. Frusquin's offspring has done as well as this for him the first season. Flotsam and Quintessence won $25,180 and $12,850 respectively, as two-year-olds. St. Amant, in 1903, carried off three races worth $25,815, and two years ago Flair won $26,920. It will be observed that so far St. Frusquin has done best with his fillies. So did his sire, St. Simon, at the commencement of his stud career. There can, I think, be little doubt that Flair and Lesbia, who are sisters, are the best of either sex got by St. Frusquin, and it is worthy of note that his great rival, Persimmon, is also renowned chiefly as the sire of Sceptre. With equal luck, both would have had a Derby winner, for while St. Frusquin is represented on the roll of honor by St. Amant, Persimmon would almost certainly have scored with Zinfandel but for the untimely death of Colonel McCalmont, which voided his nomination. Perhaps, however, it is better not to talk of luck in this connection, because it may be taken for granted, as I pointed out on Saturday, that Flair would have won the Derby had she not broken down after her victory in the One Thousand Guineas. Apart from Lesbia the chief contributor, so far as two-year-olds are concerned, to St. Frusquin's aggregate, is Lord Carnarvon's St. Cyril. But for his wind infirmity, which necessitated the insertion of a tube in his throat, this youngster would in all probability have been one of the best of his year. So far as make and shape are concerned, he is all that could be desired, and allied to his brilliant speed are courage and pertinacity. It may not be generally known that he is entered for both the Derby and St. Leger next season.

"Gallinule, now second in the list, was first three months ago. It then seemed highly probable that he would maintain the premier position to the end of the season; but the totally unexpected collapse of White Eagle greatly impaired his prospects. This colt had already placed $37,857.50 to his account, and it seemed a foregone conclusion that he would secure one or more of the big autumn prizes, but his failure in the contest for the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster completely altered the situation. His great performance at Sandown, where he gave twelve pounds and a head beating to Rhodora, exhausted his store of nervous energy. Everybody recognized at the time that he had accomplished a tremendous feat; after seeing Rhodora win the Dewhurst Plate we are better able to guage the value of the achievement. It is quite likely that White Eagle will re-appear as a three-year-old with all his power restored to him. If so, what are the odds against his being the best of the colts?. Since the beginning of August, Gallinule's list of two-year-old winners has been strengthened by the addition of Miranda and French Partridge. The former has not fulfilled the promise she displayed at the First October Meeting, but French Partridge has won a couple of races worth $7,500—performances which have chiefly served the purpose of enhancing the reputation of Mountain Apple, who defeated her so easily in the race for the Clearwell Stakes. Persimmon's total has received an addition of nearly $20,000 in the course of the three months. The contributors during this period have been Royal Realm, Rushcutter, Your Majesty and Mountain Apple. The last-named is unquestionably the most promising of this quartet, and in due season we shall probably find that in giving him only 113 pounds, the framers of the Free Handicap greatly underrated his ability. Orme owes his prominence in our list to the victories gained by Vamose and Rhodora. The former is, it is to be feared, an exploded force, but there are great possibilities in Rhodora, sister to Orby. She won the Dewhurst Plate in great style and, though not at present to be classed with Lesbia, there is so much more of her that she may not be far behind Sir Daniel Cooper's filly next year. And so one might go on, but I will not pursue this analysis further at present. I shall have more to say on the subject when the full season's records are available."

CALIFORNIA STAKES TO CLOSE.

While Oakland racing is now in full swing and all of the California Jockey Club's stakes for two-year-olds of this year and over were long since closed, it is in order for owners to take notice of the fact that the stakes for two-year-olds of 1908 are yet to close. Four rich events for now yearlings are to close for nominations December 16 at midnight as follows:

Gunst Stakes, fillies, $1,500 added; one-half mile.

Undine Stakes, colts and geldings, $1,500 added: one-half mile.

Bell Stakes, all sexes, $2,000 added; four and one-half furlongs.

Gebhard Handicap, all sexes, $2,500 added; five-eighths of a mile.

Owners who are yet to ship to California, should not fail to make nominations to these valuable events. They are the richest of the winter racing season and well worth any owner's winning. Their terms and conditions are fully set out in the club's advertisement published in this issue.

Two important Futuritys are also advertised. entries to which will close December 31. Attention is also called to their highly favorable conditions.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

W. C. Daly will winter his stable at Hot Springs this year unless he adopts other plans.

Jockey Gilbert Clifford, of the J. F. Clifford stable, has recovered from an attack of typhoid pneumonia and will resume riding in a few days.

T. H. Williams has a yearling black colt named Prudent, a half-brother to Prejuicio, by Colonel Wheeler—Prejudice, which promises to be a coming good one.

An English paper reports the death of the stallion Pearl Diver, by poison administered by a discharged stableman. Pearl Diver was said to be the most successful sire in South Africa.

Enoch Wishard, who has charge of the Spreckels stable at Savannah, Ga., says that the track and buildings at the Savannah plant make the best wintering quarters for horses he has ever visited.

J. L. McGinnis has shipped Frank Gill to Idle Hour Stock Farm in Kentucky for the winter. The horse will be mated to a half dozen mares before being brought back to New York next spring.

Jockey W. Dugan now weighs about 130 pounds and says he will not attempt to make riding weight. He expects to acquire a few horses during the Oakland meeting and go in for racing as an owner and trainer in a small way.

True Wing, which had a tendon severed when jumped on in the running of the Thanksgiving Handicap at Oakland, has been removed from the track by her owner, T. H. Ryan, to a veterinary hospital. True Wing will be retired to the stud upon her recovery.

San Luis Obispo, Cal., is to have a race track with a grandstand and stalls. Mr. Thomas Barrett, Jr., a prominent resident of that place, has interested a number of his fellow citizens in the project. A tract of land is to be leased for a term of years, on which to build the track and erect the necessary buildings.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

[Communications without names and addresses of senders will not be answered or noticed; nor will any answers be sent by mail.]

F. M. S., St. Louis, Mo. No, but it is well enough to do so.

Max G., St. Louis, Mo. An error as to the distance does not affect a bet on a race.

J. C. P., Chicago. One dollar and fifty cents straight and $1.60 place, the place betting not being affected by the dead heat.

C. M., Springfield, Ill. In case of a dead heat the money bet is added together and divided equally between the bettor and the bookmaker.

J. I. C., Chicago. It would require too much research to answer your query. Later on tables will be compiled and published covering the matter.

S. P. D., Toronto, Ont. Necessarily the speculation on Dashaway was on the race in which he was in sight as an entry, that is, the sixth race and when he was scratched from that race all wagers on him became draws.

J. C. M., Chicago. Lajeunesse was a winner subject to the rule concerning dead heats, in which the money bet is added together and divided equally between the backer and the layer. At average odds the backer would have $5.75 coming from Lajeunesse on a $5 bet which would parlay on the other two horses. At post odds it would be $5.25.

Winner—Br. f, by Solitaire II.—Georgia VI. (trained by F. Burlew).

Went to post at 2:01. At post 7 minutes. Start good for all but Sallie Barry. Won driving; second and third the same. Georgia Girl, away fast and running to her best form, showed superior speed and stamina in a long drive and gamely held La Souer safe in the closing strides. La Souer was a forward and game contender all the way and finished fast, but was not good enough to beat the winner. Apache worked his way through gradually and finished close up and gamely. Una closed a gap in a rough trip and suffered from interference. Knox Boyd ran fairly well and was close up at the end. Silver Cup ran in improved form. Sallie Berry ran away a mile before the start and the others were dispatched without her. The winner was entered for $500; no bid.

Scratched—69833 Field Marshal, 109.

Overweights—Apache, 2 pounds; Sylvia G., 4; Matt Searcy, 5; Miss Schirnding, 1.

Winner—B. g, by Alvescot—Starlight, by King Alfonso (trained by E. McCloskey).

Went to post at 2:36. At post 2 minutes. Start fair. Won handily; second driving; third the same. Asteroid, away well and lucky throughout, forced a fast pace to the stretch and, standing the final drive gamely, won going away. McAfee, away slowly, had to overcome much interference in the early stages, but finished with a rush and was best. Durable was in a jam through the early stages, but closed a big gap, finished fast and can do much better. Constantia was going fast when she ran out on the stretch turn. Stellaland closed a big gap in the last quarter. De Shanno and Ruskinetta tired after showing speed.

Overweights—Asteroid, 1 pound; Stellaland, 2.

Winner—B. c, by Sempronius—Satellite II. (trained by F. Hanlon).

Went to post at 3:07. At post 3 minutes. Start bad. Won easily; second driving; third the same. Severus had to go wide for the first three furlongs, but wore the leaders down on the stretch turn and came on to win going away. Esther Brown ran in much improved form and was a forward contender all the way. Feast forced a fast pace in the early stages and outstayed Brimmer in the closing drive. The latter showed the most speed for a half, but tired in the drive through the stretch as if short. Agnes Dorothea closed up a big gap and put up a good performance. Ansonia was gaining fast at the end. Linda Lake was in a jam most of the way. Florence N. was practically left at the post and not persevered with. The winner was entered for $1,600; no bid.

Overweights—Severus, 3 pounds; Agnes Wood, 1; Padrone, 2; Florence N., 3.

Winner—Br. g, by Star Shoot—Queen Dixon (trained by F. Hanlon).

Went to post at 3:39. At post 2 minutes. Start fair. Won driving; second and third the same. Lens, running to his best form and aided by a good ride, gained steadily on Al Muller in the stretch and Notter outrode Delaby slightly at the end. Al Muller, probably best at the weights, showed superior early speed, but tired near the end and succumbed in the closing strides of a game finish. Momentum ran in improved form and was close up all the way. Platoon tired after going a fast half. Dew of Dawn ran fairly well and will improve. Rebel Queen, away slowly and poorly ridden, ran far below her best form. Pat Ornus will improve. St. Ilario can do much better.

Overweights—Dew of Dawn, 3½ pounds.

Went to post at 4:05. Off at once to a good start. Won easily; second driving; third the same. Hyperion II. forced a fast pace for the first three-quarters, then wore Donna down on the stretch turn, held Besterling safe in the stretch run and won easing up. Besterling ran a good race, closed a big gap and finished fast. Harting, outpaced for the first half, gained steadily through the stretch after saving ground on the turn. Donna quit badly after going a good three-quarters and may have been short. Dashaway ran a bad race and was a distant trailer all the way.

Docile was restrained for the first three-quarters, then moved up fast when straightened out for the stretch run and got up in the last two strides. Dr. McCluer, much the best, was excessively urged in the early stages in setting the pace and tired at the end. Vincentio forced the early pace, but tired badly when called on in the stretch. Nine, badly outpaced for the first three-quarters, came with a rush in the stretch and finished wearing Vincentio down. Fonsoluca quit after going well for a mile. Trenola, hard ridden all the way, ran poorly. Arabo quit after going a good half. The winner was entered for $400; no bid.

Went to post at 1:44. At post 7 minutes. Start fair. Won easily; second driving; third the same. Heather Scott was favored by the soft going and a striding start and, after close early contention, drew out on the far turn and won as his rider pleased. Bobby Shafto closed up steadily throughout into a fast going second and is promising. Strat Martin, shuffled back at the half, closed a gap in the last half and ran a fine race. Jockey Mounce ran prominently to the stretch and tired. Bonheur was also well up for five furlongs. Galmoore, probably short, showed superior early speed and likes mud. The winner was entered for $600; no bid.

Creston Boy, while hard held, made the running by a wide gap to midway of the stretch, but was awkwardly ridden when challenged and lost out in the last stride. Ten Oaks, within striking distance always, outstayed St. George Jr. for third place. The latter, away badly, closed a big gap. Hush, shuffled back at the half, made up some ground. Winner—Br. m, by Lamplighter—Serene, by Sterling (trained by F. T. Hinkey).

Serenity broke slowly, but moved up rapidly on the outside with clear sailing and drew out on the last turn and held sway to the end, but finished tiring. Ambitious ran in forward and game contention throughout and finished gaining. Sea Air helped make the early pace, but was forced out of position on the far turn and lost several lengths, then just failed to get up in a whirlwind rush. Alice Cary forged into the lead on the far turn, but tired finally. Meada had a rough trip all the way and was given a bad ride. Peggy O'Neal improved her position. Netting dropped out early. Storma failed to stay and was affected by the going. The winner was entered for $600; no bid.

Dollie Dollars made the running by a wide gap for a mile and quit, but is extra good. Janeta trailed close up for a mile and finished well. Ovelando showed superior early speed, but failed to stay.

Time, 25, 50⅗, 1:15⅕, 1:42, 1:45⅕.

Winner—B. g, by Rubicon—Miss Reel (trained by H. A. Cotton).

Went to post at 3:51. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Captain Burnett was carried out on the first turn, but quickly assumed command and won all the way, was easily best and is a good mud runner. Martinmas broke fast, took a place in unexpectedly forward contention, worked through a rough inside passage on the far turn and just failed to get up in a whirlwind stretch rush. Etapa maintained forward and game contention throughout and is extra good. Fisher Boy, from a good start, was skillfully placed, but failed badly at the end. Rhinock, a good looker, improved his position well in the last half. Grace St. Clair failed to stay. Rosi Ni Ni loomed up on the far turn. The winner, entered for $500, was bid up to $1,000 and bought in.

CRACK RIDERS OF OLD ENGLAND.

Who They Will Ride For Next Year and Their Plans for this Winter.

"Most of our jockeys are looking forward to the winter recess, which will afford them the opportunity of a well-earned rest. A jockey's life is by no means one of unalloyed ease and pleasure, as is by many imagined. On the contrary, he has to go through much severe work and careful training to keep himself in hard and healthy condition if he is to succeed in his profession, and it would astound many to meet the same man in mid-winter as in mid-summer, for they would see him looking half as big again, while they would be filled with wonder as to how the jockey had reduced himself to riding weights during the racing season. Such reduction frequently necessitates strenuous wasting and diet light almost to the verge of starvation, as would, I am sure, be confirmed by such great masters of the art of race riding as John Osborne and Fred Webb, both happily still alive and well," says "Vigilant," in London Sportsman. "The majority of the present-day jockeys are of lighter frame and build than either of these two great horsemen, notably so Higgs, whose weight, combined with his undoubted talent, has assisted largely in placing him for the second year in succession at the head of the list of successful jockeys. I understand that his claims have been renewed for next season by his old master, Mr. J. C. Sullivan, as also for the Beckhampton Stable and Lord Rosebery, while, of course, he will again command as much 'chance' riding as heretofore. Hunting in Ireland is, I believe, his chief winter recreation, and the same exhilarating sport is the principle enjoyment of Mornington Cannon, who is acknowledge to be one of the best men to hounds in the country. Of late he has not been so much in public evidence as should have been the experience of so great a rider, his attentions having been for the most part confined to the service of Lord Howard de Walden, whose apricot jacket he is to wear again next season. Maher, like Higgs, has had a good season, having well passed his 'century.' He will winter in company with J. H. Martin, but recently returned from riding in Hungary, at Davos Platz, the attractions of tobogganing having for once prevailed over those of his native country. Maher is to ride again for Lord Derby and the Stanley House Stable, and will, as from his initial start in this country, be doubtless closely allied with George Blackwell's stable. Thus there is the probability that as in each of her races this year he will have the handling of Lesbia in her engagements next year.

"Halsey, who is the veteran of the flock, although still sufficiently young and strong to be better than ever he was, and consequently good enough to hold his own against any of his contemporaries, has accomplished some great performances in the pigskin since on the opening day of the Lincoln Spring meeting he won the Tathwell Stakes on Claudian. Perhaps no greater compliment could be paid to his skill and ability than is presented in the fact that men of such acumen and practical experience as Sam Loates and Tom Jennings are anxious to secure his services whenever available. At the moment he is nicely within reach of completing his hundred winning mounts and all admirers of a fine horsemen and a hard worker will join me in the hope that before the Final Plate brings the curtain down at Manchester, he will have attained his ambition. He will, I believe, be first jockey again to Sir Ernest Cassel next season. Of the remainder, none has a chance of getting into three figures in existing conditions. We can ill afford to lose a good jockey, but that misfortune will happen in respect of young Barrington Lynham, who has accepted a handsome retainer to ride for M. Maurice Caillault in France. His place as first jockey to Mr. Hall Walker is to be filled by Hewitt, who may be congratulated on having dropped into such a fine appointment, bearing in mind his disappointment after leaving Australia to ride in this country. His success 'down under' was almost phenomenal, and I have little doubt that with a renewal of the opportunity it will be continued here; for it is fair to assume that he will ride for other patrons of Mr. Persse's stable, which will shelter at least two three-year-olds of high classic promise in White Eagle and Sir Archibald. Bernard Dillon will, as before, be first jockey to Mr. Purcell Gilpin's stable, which may mean much more than at the present moment appears on the surface, and William Griggs renews his engagement with Sir Robert Jardine, and John Dawson's stable will have second call. In the meanwhile, he will, I hear, go to India, having been specially retained to ride for Mr. Apcar in the Viceroy's Cup. Croft, who has this season done so well for the St. Gatien House establishments, will presumably continue in the same service, and a similar remark will apply in respect of Stokes in connection with Sir Charles Nugent's establishment, mention of which reminds me of good news concerning Prospector. He has, I am informed, recovered completely from his severe illness, at any rate as far as can be judged from appearances, for in the words of Sir Charles, 'He now looks splendid and carries himself as jauntily as ever.' It is hoped that no ill effect will result from his attack of fever; but, of course, nothing certain can be known in that direction until the magnificent son of Pioneer is put into active training again. Trigg, who has been closely identified with Mr. Hibbert's racing fortunes for several years, may next year find himself identified with the Manton stable, and Madden, who is at present unattached, may possibly become allied to the Sefton Lodge Stable.

SID BERRY'S PHILOSOPHY.

Sid Berry, the veteran horseman, has sold out and is going to quit the game. Berry began his racing career about thirty years ago and has been a prominent figure in New Orleans racing for the past fifteen years. When the old Fair Grounds was opened under the management of Charles Bush, Berry brought his stable from Lexington, Ky., to the Fair Grounds. He had fourteen head at that time, among them Princess Fonso, Sir Planet, Rexsetta, Roseyota and the like. The first meeting under the management of Mr. Bush was conducted with less than 150 head of horses, says the New Orleans Picayune. Berry continued to run at the Fair Grounds each season until 1900, when he retired to his home at Mobile.

Last year the old spirit became so strong that he returned to his old love and since his return has had Incubator, George C. Graddy and Corinne, all three of these having carried off purses for him, and when asked why he was about to retire under such circumstances, he said:

"My dear boy, the future does not look good to me, and as Corinne is barred from City Park on account of having raced at the Louisiana Driving Park, I do not care to invest in any more horses just for the racing here this winter. They will race the 100 days, but after that what's to become of them? No, the game ain't like it used to be.

"Is it not a fact," asked the reporter, "that these one-half-mile tracks and small meetings have caused public sentiment against racing?"

"Well, to a certain extent, but not altogether. Since my arrival here three weeks ago I have learned that the manager and several horsemen at the Louisiana Driving Park were ruled off by the City Park Jockey Club, but is it not a fact that there are now some half a dozen or more horsemen in good standing at the big tracks that have been ruled off for doing things equally as bad?

"I am not in favor of half-mile tracks, but I think the 'cause' is more to blame than the evil. If you will go back to the beginning you will find that the 'Western Jockey Club' is the cause of these half-mile tracks and Jim Crow meetings. The jockey club adopted the rule that all trainers should pay $15 per year for a license. Everybody was invited to become a trainer. It was no more trouble to get a trainer's license for $15 than to buy a glass of beer with a nickel. The consequence was that hundreds began to think they were trainers, and as soon as they would get their license they would look up a horse and get busy. So long as the game was going at St. Louis and Chicago it was all right, as the managers wanted plenty of material to gamble with, but when the deluge came and they could not use these, they were given the marble heart. Now, if this same jockey club had the right to manufacture these men and take their money for years, they had a right to let them down as easy as possible. I have no sympathy with this poor owner talk—the turf is no place for paupers. A man who is not a natural-born horseman and cannot 'dig' when the circumstances demand it, should be in some other business.

GOOD ONES FOR BREEDING BUREAU.

Lamplighter to Start List in Missouri—Colonel Wheeler the First for California.

Lamplighter, a bay horse, 18, by Spendthrift—Torchlight, purchased at the recent sales at Lexington by Barney Schreiber for $100, will be the nucleus of a breeding bureau in the state of Missouri. Lamplighter was a grand race horse and sire and should prove a valuable acquisition to those who would produce horses with a strain of thoroughbred blood.

Lamplighter was raced as a two-year-old in 1891 by the late Captain S. S. Brown, in whose colors he won six races that year, among them being the Optional Stakes at Monmouth, where he defeated Mascot, Hamilton, Wah Jim and other fast ones.

Running in the colors of Brown & Rogers for the major part of the season, and later the Rancocas Stable, of his three-year-old career, Lamplighter won many races of merit. His first start was in the Fort Hamilton Handicap at Gravesend, where he finished second to St. Florian. Next was a victory in the Sea and Sound Stakes at Morris Park, which he won by three lengths. Then came the Suburban, where he finished third to Montana and Major Domo in a driving finish, being beaten a half length and a head. The Thistle, Champion and Choice Stakes, Twin City and Bridge Handicaps and the First and Second Specials fell to his prowess before his campaign as a three-year-old ended.

Diablo conquered the good son of Spendthrift in his first start as a four-year-old in the Brooklyn Handicap. Lamplighter carried 125 pounds in this race to Diablo's 112, and was beaten a length and a half. Following this came his victories in the Standard and Maturity Stakes at Gravesend, both of which he won with ease. After winning four more races for the Rancocas Stable Lamplighter passed into the hands of Gottfried Walbaum. His first start for his new owner resulted in a victory in the Oriental Handicap at Gravesend, in which he defeated such high-class racers as Banquet, Sir Walter and others. The First Special was again his, beating Cadmus, his only opponent, by two lengths on a heavy track.

Lamplighter made his first appearance at the old Guttenberg track in a match with Tammany for a purse of $5,000 and $2,500 a side. In this he was decisively beaten by four lengths. Starting for the last time in the east this season he won the Country Club Handicap at Morris Park, carrying 130 pounds, and defeated Charade, Reckon, Picknicker and Lowlander, running the mile and an eighth in 1:54. Lamplighter was then taken west to conquer, but did not accomplish much. Starting three times at Hawthorne, but little of his former form was displayed, as he was beaten fifteen lengths by Yo Tambien in a match race at one and one-eighth miles, and finished a bad third in a three-cornered special, Clifford winning by eight lengths, with Yo Tambien ten lengths in front of Lamplighter. This was his last start as a four-year-old.

Lamplighter started but nine times in his career as a five-year-old, and was victorious in four races and unplaced but once. About his best achievements of the year were the winning of the Canadian Stakes and Merchants' Handicap at Saratoga.

Late in the year 1895 Lamplighter was purchased from Walbaum by Milton Young, for whom he won one race, a purse at a mile, run at Gravesend. In this he defeated such cracks as Cash Day, Gotham and Brandywine. His last start under colors was in a purse at Morris Park, where he finished unplaced. He was then retired to the stud, making a great success as a sire, among his produce being many stake winners.

Following is a tabulated record of the races run and money won by Lamplighter:

When President Thomas H. Williams was in New York last fall he devoted considerable time investigating the modus operandi of the Jockey Club in conducting its Breeding Bureau in that state and shortly after Mr. Williams returned to San Francisco he announced his intention of founding a similar breeding bureau for California to be conducted by the Pacific Jockey Club. When this announcement was made, Colonel Daniel Burns signified his intention of presenting Colonel Wheeler, the thirteen-year-old chestnut stallion, which has been doing stud duty at the Burns & Waterhouse Candelaria Stud farm at Hopland, Mendocino county, California, as the first sire in the new breeding bureau.

Colonel Wheeler was bred by James B. Haggin at the famous Rancho del Paso Stud at Sacramento and is by Midlothian—Agnes (formerly Ondalight), by Onondaga. Colonel Wheeler raced three years, as a two, three and four-year-old. During these three years he won a number of good races, meeting and defeating the best of his age at the tracks on which he raced. He was raced by Messrs. Burns & Waterhouse and was ridden in nearly all of his races by either Thorpe or Jones. Colonel Wheeler made his first start at Ingleside, January 20, 1896 and was unplaced. Ten days later he was started again, but did not finish in the money. In his third race he finished second to W. O'B. Macdonough's Zamar II. He won his next three races, defeating Scarborough, Lady Laurelwood, Charlemange, Torpedo, Alma Dale, St. Dunstin, Gordon, and Queen Flambeau among others. He was then shipped to Milwaukee, where he won one of three starts. From there he was taken to St. Louis, where he won his third start August 21, and followed this victory with two more out of five races. His first race as a three-year-old was at Ingleside February 22, 1897 and, after his next start, he was only once outside the money during the year. His last race of the season was in the Naglee Selling Stakes, in which he finished second to his stable mate, Shasta Water.

As a four-year-old Colonel Wheeler only started three times, once first, one second and one third. He won the Golden Gate Stakes January 10, 1898, defeating Dr. Sharp, Satsuma, Fleur de Lis and St. Callatine and his stable mate, Shasta Water. In the McLaughlin Selling Stakes five days later he was beaten by Dr. H. E. Rowell's Satsuma by a nose. Garland Barr, King William, Tom Cromwell and Buckwa finished in the order named behind him. The mile and one-sixteenth was run in 1:48¾ over a slow track. Colonel Wheeler ran his last race September 6, 1898, during the race meeting held at Sacramento in conjunction with the State Fair. In this race he finished third to Ko Ko and Scarborough.

Colonel Wheeler was a good performer at any weight, but preferred a fast track. As a sire he has already sent Princess Wheeler, Gossiper II., Storma, Colonel Faverdale, Costados, Acreedor, My Dulcie, Santa Juanita and other good performers to the races since his retirement from the turf.

Herewith is given a tabulated record of his races and amount of money won:

JOCKEYS HANDICAPPED.

Daily Racing Form will publish from time to time a table of the rating of the jockeys riding on American tracks, based on their performances in the saddle. The best riders will be given the uniform rating of 100, and from that point the others will be graded down according to their estimated relative skill. For a difference of five points between the jockeys, three points change in the handicap figures assigned the horses in any race must be made. Only riders frequently in the saddle will be given a place in the table. The following is the present rating:
